PMP Mock Exams

Mock Exam. 200 Questions. 4 Hours Timed. Feedback Deferred to End.

This experience is very much like the real exam. Except we tell you what you got right and wrong and you receive feedback after you hit the "Submit All and Finish". It is timed at 4 hours. Watch the clock at the bottom of the question navigation (on left). You may flag questions and return to them, change answers until you submit the exam, and jump around in the question order. Your score of points will equal the percent correct.

Please be patient and expect to wait about 30 seconds for the first question to appear when you click on ATTEMPT QUIZ NOW. It takes a bit of time for the system to randomly pull 200 questions from our large database of possible questions. After the first question appears, the others have loaded in the background and everything moves fast. The timer starts when the first question displays.

Immediate Feedback 200 Random Questions Exam

This is one of the best ways to learn. You can check your answer immediately and get the right answer and feedback. But you can't change your answer. This is not timed. You can stop and start. When you submit your exam, your score will be based on your first answers. You will not get points for unanswered questions.

10 Random Questions in 10 Minutes

The questions will be randomly selected and different each time you redo this quiz. This is the best option for shorter sessions. This also is good to try to get in the mode of pacing yourself at about 1 minute per question. Watch the timer under the question navigation. This defers your feedback until you "finish and submit" the exam.

Challenging Yourself

In this section you will find the questions that are often considered the most difficult. If you get 80% of these questions right, you are doing very well. This group of questions does not represent a good cross-section of the types and topics in the actual exam. It is best to use these when you are up for a challenge: not too soon in your study process, or it may be frustrating; and not too late in your study process, or it may cause excess stress.
